please note this is a companion version not the original book sample book insights 1 raye means was a college graduate who wanted to pursue a career in engineering but she was barred from doing so because of her race she ended up working as a clerk typist for the applied mathematics lab which was staffed with engineers who seemed to consider their position a birthright 2 raye means was born in 1935 in arkansas she was the wind beneath her wings as she described it because her mother had to fight for everything she got the great depression had already taken its toll on the state and the mississippi river flood of 1927 had left it with little 3 the jordans had a restaurant and a house which they had completely furnished on credit unfortunately they fell prey to the financial hell that had engulfed everyone around them they lost everything they had including the radio lounge 4 raye s childhood was full of fun and games with her family she grew up in a rented four room bungalow with a refrigerator and a telephone both of which were rare for the time the telephone had a party line which meant that there were three or four people in the neighborhood who had the same phone number an event defined as the decisive turn the surprising point in the plot of a narrative constitutes its tellability the motivation for reading it this book describes a framework for a narratological definition of eventfulness and its dependence on the historical socio cultural and literary context a series of fifteen analyses of british novels and tales from late medieval and early modern times to the late 20th century demonstrates how this concept can be put into practice for a new specifically contextual interpretation of the central relevance of these texts the examples include chaucer s miller s tale behn s oroonoko defoe s moll flanders richardson s pamela fielding s tom jones dickens s great expectations hardy s on the western circuit james s the beast in the jungle joyce s grace conrad s shadow line woolf s unwritten novel lawrence s fanny and annie mansfield s at the bay fowles s enigma and swift s last orders this selection is focused on the transitional period from 19th century realism to 20th century modernism because during these decades traditional concepts of what counts as an event were variously problematized therefore these texts provide a particularly interesting field for testing the analytical capacity of the term of eventfulness this all inclusive a z encyclopedia by one of the world s foremost experts on cinema provides comprehensive annotations of the best films produced from 1914 on the work offers more than 5 000 three to five star entries three stars good four stars excellent five stars masterpiece and yes author jay robert nash has viewed every single one of them as well as many more that did not make
